

It's official. Last year's La Reunion TX first annual student-mentor program for boys, Art Chicos Unidos was a smashing success. Once again, we are looking for 9th-12th grade boys who are interested in working with male Dallas artists to help them realize their visions for collaborative outdoor art installations.

Art Chicos students will participate in an orientation featuring a discussion on creative career paths presented by Dallas Art Dealers Association members, a one-day workshop apprenticing with a professional artist, and an open house and reception for family, friends and the public the last weekend of the project. The program will take place at the LRTX outdoor workspace and sculpture garden in west Oak Cliff three Saturdays in October and November.

ABOUT:

Art Chicos Unidos is an annual program of LRTX that seeks to combine high school boys with a wide range of Dallas' male artist/mentors. Our focus is on building teamwork and creative thinking through hands on experience. We encourage student involvement and seek to build an artist-mentor relationship where students explore their artistic expression in a gender-neutral environment.

APPLICATION PROCESS:

Complete the attached application by September 21 and return it to your LRTX representative or the person who gave you this application. There are 16 open spots for the 2012 program. Art Chicos students will be chosen on a first-come, first-served basis. Registration is $20. Scholarships are available by request; contact info@lareuniontx.org.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ELIGIBILITY:

- 9th–12th grade males
- Passionate about art and the pursuit of art-related leadership skills
