DALLAS' ECUMENICAL MIXED CHOIR

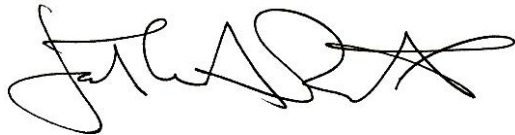

To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to add my voice to the rich chorus of support for Flora Lofts.

Affordable housing for working artists is one of the key elements that will add luster to our growing, thriving Arts District. The strides of the district in bringing people to this heart of Dallas have been significant but these new facilities will fill an important role of day-long people action.

Critics and planners have consistently agreed that the addition of housing for working artists and their families has sadly been a missing critical element in the Arts District fabric. We look forward to its coming to fruition.

Sincerely,
